Dry Action To Nullify State Repeal Vote Collapses

JUDGE RULES CALIFORNIA VOTE VALID

Refuses to Grant Petition Enjoining L. A. County From Canvassing Vote

NOT STATE FUNCTION

Judge Wilson Holds Election Was in Compliance With Federal Orders

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—(UP)—A test case through which dry campaigners had hoped to nullify the recent repeal vote in California collapsed today when Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson ruled that the vote was valid.

The decision was by way of refusing the petition for an injunction brought by Rev. Frank G. H. Stevens, pastor of the Santa Monica Methodist Episcopal church, South, and Richard M. Cannon, son of Bishop James Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South.

The petitioners had sought to restrain the supervisors of Los Angeles county from counting the recent vote on the theory that the state was not empowered to hold the election because the congressional resolution amending the constitution established no order of procedure for state elections.

Judge Wilson held that since the resolution did not embody specific instructions for state conventions, the states are free to elect delegates, hold conventions and do everything necessary to comply with the federal resolution.

The petitioners raised several other technical points, charging variation from the proper election procedure, but Judge Wilson ruled that the variations were immaterial, since the repeal election was not a state function, but in compliance with a federal order.

PLANNING NON STOP FLIGHT OF WORLD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 12.—(UP)—Tentative plans for a non-stop round the world flight next year were announced today by Bennett Griffin, who flew from New York to Berlin in 1932 with James Mattern.

Griffin said Mattern probably will accompany him on the globe spanning trip.

It is planned to follow a southern route and have refueling planes available at bases along the way.

DEATH PENALTY URGED FOR KIDNAPERS BY U. S. SENATOR

BLANKET ORDER CONTEMPLATED BY PRESIDENT

May Establish Wage Minimum, Maximum Hours for All Industry

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(UP)—A blanket order under authority of the National Industrial Recovery Act to establish minimum wages and maximum weekly working hours is contemplated by President Roosevelt, it was learned today, to stabilize industries such as coal mining and others which would be unable to agree upon codes for some months.

Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the National Recovery Act, has reported to Mr. Roosevelt that he is working on the minimum wage-maximum work week plan but that it has not progressed sufficiently to permit a detailed report.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, feels that good progress is being made on the whole stabilization plan, including agreement on industrial codes.

Johnson has proposed to the president that for time-saving purposes it would be desirable to issue a blanket order for control of wages and work in industry not immediately amenable to a code.

The coal industry is considered by the president to be typical of the more difficult problems and it is understood coal will first come under a blanket wage and work order affecting industry generally before a code is made effective.

The problem of approximately 200,000 excess coal miners who would not be employable even if the industry were stabilized on an increased production basis is troubling the administration.

Johnson and his aides estimate about one-third of the coal mine labor is excess and that difficulty along with the problems of establishing the regional control essential under the code scheme leads Mr. Roosevelt to believe two or three months may elapse before a code can be made effective.

Under those circumstances, it was explained today, the president may utilize the temporary blanket order plan to establish a maximum work week and to raise wages.

ROAD BILL CREATES HUNDRED NEW JOBS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 12.—(UP)—In the wake of passage of the 6600 mile road bill has come creation of 100 new jobs and retention of 400 more who, otherwise, would have been removed.

Earl Lee Kelley, director of public works, said the spur to employment was due to the additional burden of maintaining as secondary state highways, approximately 6600 miles of county roads taken over by the state.

Shrinking revenues had impelled Kelly to pare down his regular state highway maintenance force of 400 men. No sooner had this been decided, however, than it appeared these men and 100 more would be needed in the secondary highway maintenance work.

SENTENCE FIVE TO DEATH IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, July 12.—(UP)—Five men were sentenced to death today for putting wire, nails, glass and hair in restaurant soup as part of a sabotage campaign to make workers dissatisfied with conditions.

Six others were sentenced to terms of imprisonment ranging from 18 months to eight years.

The leader of the strange sabotage campaign was said to be Oshkin Mikhail, one of those sentenced to death. He is a former Czarist army officer.

Sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for killing a member of the Communist youth organization, Mikhail escaped from prison and under an assumed name worked his way to the post of chef in a workers' restaurant.

ST. JOHN'S NEWFOUNDLAND

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 12.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, flying north from Halifax, passed over Port au Basques, Newfoundland, at 3 p. m. today, Newfoundland summer time (2 p. m. EDT).

Round World Fares Now $35,000

NEW YORK, July 12.—(UP)—The market for round-the-world passenger fares opened today at $10,000 bid, $35,000 asked. Trading was at a standstill.

Dr. Martin M. Schor made the bid today, explaining to Wiley Post that he wanted to accompany him around the world on his projected "solo flight."

Post's representative ascertained that Dr. Schor weighed 138 pounds and estimated the minimum one way fair at $35,000.

SALE OF BEER IS MADE LEGAL IN OKLAHOMA

State Votes Almost 2 to 1 Although Many Counties Cast Dry Majority

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 12.—(UP)—Oklahoma today joined the ranks of states permitting the sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

The state voted almost two to one to legalize beer at an election yesterday.

Returns from 2620 of the state's 3213 precincts showed 202,796 votes for beer and 113,564 against. Returns were complete for 16 counties and partial for the other 61.

Although legalization of beer does not become operative for five days, sale was started today.

After stationing national guardsmen around trains of beer in railroad yards, Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray abruptly ordered them withdrawn. He issued a proclamation permitting immediate sale of beer.

"We're going to collect the tax," the governor said.

Oklahoma beer taxes are the highest in the union.

More than 100 carloads of beer were reported in railroad yards here.

Several counties cast dry majorities. Most of them were along the Kansas border. The southwestern part of the state also showed considerable dry strength.

These dry areas gave prohibition leaders hope that the state would vote against repeal. Members of the legislature, now trying to set up machinery for a repeal election, believe the referendum will be held in December, although no date has been set.

S. A. GIRL WINNER AT CHESTNUT HILL

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass., July 12.—(UP)—Katherine Winthrop, 13, Boston, upset Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn of Philadelphia, seeded fourth, in the Longwood women's singles tennis championship today to gain the quarter-finals, 6-7, 6-4, 6-3.

Alice Marble, San Francisco, seeded third, defeated Esther Barthol of Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-2.

Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, Cal., eliminated Florence Leboutillier of New York, 6-2, 6-1.

Baroness Levi of New York defeated Alice Francis, Orange, N. J., 6-1, 6-2.

The top-seeded Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles defeated Ann Page of Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-4.

L. A. SOLONS FAVOR STATE SALES TAX

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—(UP)—Los Angeles county's legislative delegation today espoused a state tax coupled with rigid economy as a means of absorbing the additional burden imposed on state finances last month by voters in passing the Riley-Stewart tax measure.

The county delegation, consisting of 23 assemblymen and one senator, decided a state sales tax was necessary to meet the counties' share of school costs which voters transferred to the state.

Speaker Walter J. Little estimated the legislature must raise $119,000,000 in new taxes to absorb a $43,000,000 deficit and balance the budget.

Little proposed a 21-2 per cent tax.

RECOVERY ACT IN CALIFORNIA IS ADVOCATED

Measure to Be Presented to Legislature When it Meets Next Week

SACRAMENTO, July 12.—(UP)—A state industrial recovery act, patterned after President Roosevelt's famous N. I. R. A., will be proposed next week at the legislature's midsummer session by Senator Will R. Sharkey, Martinez administration floor leader, and chairman of the senate finance committee.

Sharkey is already at work clearing the way of the principal objection—namely, determination of most legislators to consider only taxation matters at the summer session.

Standing shoulder to shoulder with the Martinez senator is the state chamber of commerce. The organization is strongly advocating passage of a "baby N. I. R. A." which would make California's cooperation with the president's program 100 per cent complete.

The plan is to bring back to life the Boyle bill—now pending in the assembly—whip it into Rooseveltian contours by appropriate amendments and push it through the legislature.

Purpose of the state N. I. R. A. is to provide stabilization of prices, production and employment on the industries and enterprises whose business is strictly within the state. President Roosevelt's national N. I. R. A. has jurisdiction only over concerns engaging in interstate commerce.

The Boyle bill already has teeth in it. Its principal provision sets forth it shall be a crime to sell any article below cost for the sole purpose of "destructive competition."

In other words, it is directly aimed at the same predatory business methods the president's bill seeks to destroy.

Commerce, industry and all business activities were reported to be watching closely attempts to create an intra-state I. R. A. Particularly attentive were independent oil men, it was said. They said to fear something comparable to the "shareholder bill"—passed by the 1931 legislature and later repudiated at the polls—might be worked into the state's industrial recovery act.

ASHURST IN Move To End Abductions

Release of John O'Connell Expected Within Next Twenty-four Hours

WASHINGTON, July 12.—(UP)—A death penalty for kidnapers was urged today by Senator Ashurst, Dem., Ariz., as the federal government exerted its power to obtain the release of John H. O'Connell Jr., of Albany, N. Y., and other persons now held captive by extortionists.

Ashurst, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, recommended more drastic penalties as a means of halting the wave of abductions. A federal law passed after the Lindbergh kidnapping provided long prison terms for kidnapers who cross state lines, send extortion notes through the mails, or use other interstate facilities.

But Ashurst believed imprisonment was not a sufficient penalty. He also suggested a federal law against interstate shipments of deadly weapons would be effective in helping halt the depredations of racketeers.

Ashurst's problems will be studied by a special senate committee which is mapping a thorough investigation of racketeering and kidnapping.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the justice department's bureau of investigation, kept in close touch with all developments in the O'Connell case, to which he has assigned three federal agents.

Federal operatives also are working on the abduction of John (Jake the Barber) Factor of Chicago, who has been missing nearly two weeks. It is expected government agents will be assigned to help solve other recent kidnappings.

FRANCE WAGING HULL STILL IN TARIFF BATTLE HOPES PARLEY WITH GERMANY TO BE SUCCESS

Economic War in Europe is Proceeding Despite Recent Tariff Truce

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press)

PARIS, July 12.—(UP)—Europe's economic war, with tariff bombardments and retaliation in the form of restrictive customs regulations, is proceeding briskly despite the London economic conference and the recent tariff truce, a United Press survey showed today.

France is waging tariff wars with Germany and Portugal; Poland is waging a tariff war against Germany and so is Roumania. The bombardments in each instance affect every country that competes with the warring ones in its export trade.

French regulations effective today raise tariffs on 100 products imported from Germany, including chemicals, cotton linters, paints, glass ware and machine tools. This followed Germany's mosting of tariffs on French products.

Portugal has just raised the tariffs on French goods by 20 per cent. This war was started when France raised tariffs on madeira and port wines. Portugal in turn raised tariffs on French motor cars and perfumes. France then imposed a 20 per cent surtax on Portuguese goods to offset depreciation of Portuguese currency.

The Portuguese foreign minister is in Paris discussing the possibility of an armistice.

Roumania has just established restrictive quotas on more than 300 items, and imposed new surtaxes of from 10 to 50 per cent on goods largely imported from Germany. This is in retaliation for Germany's restriction of imports of Roumanian agricultural products.

Poland has prohibited until October 19 the importation of wool, chemicals, tanning extracts, oleaginous products, grains and shoes imported from Germany.

SEARCH FOR MOTHER WHO DESERTS BABY

ABILENE, Tex., July 12.—(UP)—Police today sought a young mother who fled from the West Texas Baptist sanitarium here last night, leaving a note on the crib of her one day old baby boy asking that the child be adopted by a good family.

The woman, admitted to the hospital Sunday, signed the note "Mrs. Rufus Chapman." "The hardships facing me are too great for the child to endure," the message said in part.

Nurses discovered the note on the crib of the eight pound child. The woman had fled down a fire escape.

Hospital attendants said the woman arrived in Abilene Sunday on a freight train.

"That means moderation of everything, including the emotions," he explained.

The centenarian admitted he must be unusual because "I'm still a republican."

Jacobs came to California from London in 1849.

LITTLE VOLSTEAD ACT IS PASSED BY SUPERVISORS AS BEER ORDINANCE IS ADOPTED

FOLLOWING ON THE heels of their action yesterday morning in legalizing the sale of beverages of not more than 3.2 percent alcoholic content the supervisors adopted, as an urgency measure, at the afternoon session a "Little Volstead act" prohibiting the possession, transportation and sale of intoxicating liquors containing more than 3.2 per cent of alcohol.

The ordinance also prohibited the ownership and operation of stills or any part of a still used in the manufacture of alcohol, and was branded an urgency measure becoming effective immediately to preserve the public peace, health and safety.

The ordinance while prohibiting the possession, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor provides for the possession, sale and transportation as permitted under the national prohibition act for medicinal purposes.

Under the ordinance as approved yesterday real property, boats or vehicles used in the manufacture, transportation or sale of intoxicating liquor may be seized and sold to pay all fines assessed against the person convicted of such violation. Property seized in the prosecution of violators of the law may be ordered sold at the discretion of the court and the proceeds of the sale paid into the general fund of the county treasury.

The penalty established in the ordinance for violation of the clause prohibiting ownership or operation of a still or part of a still is a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment in the county jail or both fine and jail sentence.

Violators of the clause prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be punished for the first offense with a fine of not more than $1000 or not more than six months in jail or both fine and jail sentence. Subsequent offenses will be punishable by a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $2000 or not less than one month nor more than one year in jail or both fine and jail sentence.

Transportation of liquor and other offenses for which the specific penalty has not already been fixed in the ordinance are punishable for the first offense by a fine of not more than $500 or a jail sentence not to exceed six months or both fine and imprisonment. Subsequent offenses are punishable by fines of not less than $100 or more than $1000 or a jail sentence of not more than one year or both fine and imprisonment.

The measure was adopted on motion of Supervisor George Jeffrey.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, July 12.—(UP)—General Italo Balbo today led his fleet of 24 Italian royal force seaplanes on a flight to Cartwright, Labrador, fourth stage of their flight to the Chicago exposition.

Balbo's plane, leading the squadron, left the water at 8 a. m. (1 a. m. CST) and was followed by the others in groups of three for the 1,500 mile flight across the subarctic Atlantic to the little Labrador port.

The planes had been held by bad weather over the Greenland area since their arrival from London-derry, Ireland. The Reykjavik-Cartwright stage is the longest, and most dangerous of the seven stages from Orbetello, Italy, to Chicago.

Succeeding stages are Shetland, N. B., 800 miles; Montreal, 870, and Chicago, 1,000.

Because of the continued calm, which prevented a start yesterday, many of the Balbo squadron had to be towed long distances, and it was two hours and 24 minutes before the last plane was in the air.

1480 Men Start Work Tomorrow On Relief Projects

$60,000 TO BE EXPENDED ON JULY PROGRAM

Orange county's work relief program will be resumed tomorrow with 1480 men assigned to the various projects that have been approved for state and federal aid. The July program, costing $60,000 will be financed by the county with the state and federal government refunding $40,000 when the program authorized under the recently approved $20,000,000 state bond issue and federal aid, becomes operative.

The only new projects to which men will be assigned are the painting of a school at Delhi and demolition of the Central elementary school at Huntington Beach. One hundred and twenty-six men will be started to work on the beach school damaged during the earthquake. Sixty men will continue work on the improvement of the Silverado canyon road.

According to information received from the office of County Welfare Director B. V. Curry, work has been temporarily suspended on the bridge project along the creek bed from Santa Ana to Irvine park. The delay in this project was necessary until additional easements were secured from property owners. Approximately five miles of the trail have been completed from San Diego street in Santa Ana extending toward the park.

Curry's office is requesting that men who are assigned to work and cannot use the assignment immediately surrender their work orders so that other men can be assigned and so that the man surrendering such order will be eligible for reassignment when he again is able to accept work. It is also requested that men without transportation contact the registrars when they receive assignment so that transportation to the jobs may be provided.

Unopposed for nomination and endorsed by lawyers in Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, Stanley Reinhaus, well-known Santa Ana attorney, is virtually assured of election to the board of governors of the California Bar association from the newly created district number 8, which includes this county.

Petitions are being circulated in Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and Inyo counties, which comprise the district, and hearty endorsement of his candidacy is being manifested in all cities. The district representative will be nominated on August 21, the balloting conducted in the next two weeks, and returns announced at the state convention at Del Monte September 21, 22 and 23. He will be sworn in there by the chief justice of the supreme court.

Eugene Daney, San Diego lawyer, has represented the counties in the new district since the inception of the state association. In the measure recently passed by the legislature creating the district, the body abolished the old plan of having some members elected at large, substituting the district plan for selection of the 15 members of the board.

BOROTRA 'KEY MAN' OF DAVIS CUP PLAY

SPRING LAKE, N. J., July 12.—(INS)—The United States is a cinch to win the Davis Cup this month, if—and it's a big if—France does not play Jean Borotra against the American team at Autheil.

This was the opinion of Sam Hardy here today.

"Borotra is the key man in the Davis Cup situation this year," said Hardy, playing captain of the American team which won the international net trophy from Australia in 1920, and non-playing captain of the 1931 squad.

"Without Borotra, we should beat France by 4 to 1 or 5 to 0," explained Hardy. "Australia should beat England in the European zone final this week end, but the Aussies are strictly a one-man team, and Jack Crawford can't take the U. S. single handed in the inter-zone series."

Russell Cochrane, 19, Third and Bush streets and Mrs. G. S. Douglas, 55, 634 Flora avenue, Ontario, were hurt yesterday at 4 o'clock when cars in which they were riding collided at Ninth and Lamson streets in Garden Grove.

PICK JURY TODAY IN ACCIDENT SUIT

With the selection of a jury almost completed it was expected that presentation of evidence in the damage suit of Mrs. Lulu Mary Kitzmiller who is suing the City of Santa Ana for $50,000 for the death of her husband, H. C. Kitzmiller, will start in department one, superior court after the noon recess.

Mrs. Kitzmiller is suing the city for damages alleging that her husband died from injuries received November 1, 1930 when the rear wheel of his automobile dropped into an open manhole at the intersection of Bristol and Fairview streets. Kitzmiller died four months after the accident.

The city's defense, according to City Attorney Clyde Downing, will be that Kitzmiller's death was due to a heart ailment and was not caused by the accident.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 12. (To the Editor of The Register:—) Frank Phillips of oil fame was out the other day, said he was going to Washington. The oil men were going to draw up a code of ethics. Everybody present had to laugh. If he had said the gangsters of America were drawing up a code of ethics, it wouldn't have sounded near as impossible.

Mary McCormic, the opera singer was at the studio yesterday. She was just "washing up" one of those gold rush M'divani brothers. He had asked her if she couldn't use him any longer, could she kindly recommend him to some wealthy American girl, so Mary and I are going to dig him up one, and we will work on a commission basis.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

AGRICULTURAL LABOR STRIKE REASON GIVEN

Declaring that it was necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety and because there exist a serious situation at this time in the county, the board of supervisors adopted, as an urgency measure an ordinance known as the "anti-picketing" law. The law became operative upon its passage yesterday.

The serious situation declared to exist in the county at present was described as involving labor disputes, strikes and the interference of labor agitators. Troubles in connection with a strike of Mexican farm laborers in the county who were refusing to work for Japanese ranchers at the low wage offered and which was settled last week were cited as the cause of the new ordinance. In connection with the strike, attempts were made to stop a rancher's truck hauling laborers who refused to join the strike, according to a report made to the sheriff's office, striking Mexicans are alleged to have fired a shot at an American rancher as he was driving his automobile along the highway.

In the ordinance adopted yesterday on the motion of John Mitchell, it was declared that the situation as it exists in the county at present holds the menace of racketeering which seriously interferes with and hinders the conduct of agricultural and horticultural business. Unless the practice of men congregating upon streets and highways and in other public places for the purpose of hindering such industry is discontinued, according to the wording of the ordinance it will tend to attract criminal, vicious and undesirable characters and cause great disorders and many breaches of the peace and quiet.

The ordinance, known as "an ordinance regulating the use and prohibiting obstruction of public highways and sidewalks," makes it unlawful for any person to loiter, stand or sit upon any public highway, sidewalk or alley so as to hinder or obstruct free passage of persons or vehicles or in any way annoy or molest persons passing.

The measure also makes it unlawful to loiter or sit in the entrance of any church or hall, theater or place of public assembly. Violation of the law is to be considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or 30 days in jail or both time and jail sentence.

JAIL PRISONER HERE INVOLVED IN BRIBE CASE

Albert Marco, former vice lord of Los Angeles and now a prisoner at the Orange County jail, was the principal figure yesterday in the sensational arrest and accusation of conspiracy to bribe a United States government official against Roy H. Smith, Los Angeles attorney, and Frank Longo, assistant cashier in a prominent Los Angeles bank.

The two men were accused of the bribery charges after Marco was taken from the jail here by federal officials yesterday and permitted to pass $500 in marked money to Smith, who in turn gave one of the $100 bills to Peter V. Davis, assistant U. S. attorney. Davis is handling the government suit to revoke Marco's American citizenship in connection with which the alleged bribe was offered. It is reported.

Davis declared he received the $100 bill in payment of $85 debt owed him by Smith for a long time. A pint of prescription whiskey was also taken to Davis by Smith, with the message that it was a token from Marco, according to Los Angeles newspaper reports. According to arresting officers, Smith and Longo received the $500 from Marco as the initial payment of $2500, to assure Marco that the suit to revoke his citizenship would be dropped.

Marco has been removed from the county jail here about three times in recent weeks, and is reported to have made a contact with Smith last Saturday. He was taken to Los Angeles yesterday about 9 a. m., and passed the $500 to Smith in a downtown drug store.

Longo was released on bail last night, and Smith was expected to post bail today.

According to Robertson's testimony Vaughan gave the beauty parlor operator a quantity of furniture and when he later became attentive to another woman, he had Robertson move the furniture to the home of his new friend.

PROHIBITION SUBJECT FOR W. C. T. U. MEET

PLACENTIA, July 12.—Mrs. Margaret Utt of Tustin and the Rev. Francis E. Hawes, pastor of the Fullerton Baptist church, were speakers yesterday afternoon at the Placentia W. C. T. U. meeting, held at the home of Mrs. John Tuffree, Carolina avenue.

Mrs. Utt declared the way to start work again on prohibition is by using the Frances Willard method, of training of youth. She said the difficulty today is with the middle aged, who have by example and training permitted youth to learn to drink, where youth has learned, and said the most urgent need is for information to be distributed among people.

The Rev. Mr. Hawes talked on "Citizenship" and said there are four kinds of citizens, so far as law observance are concerned. The types are those who attempt to obey all laws; those who disregard all laws, the "gangster" type, whether highwaymen or in high office, the type who are trying to overthrow the government and a fourth class, those who obey only those laws they choose to obey, and declared such are they who work for repeal of the 18th amendment.

In connection with repeal, he said, the saloon is already in our midst, and is being followed, as usual, with the dance hall, the gambling joint, and the transient room hotel.

Mrs. A. Leroy Grimm presided at a business session. A report carried a note of thanks to the Santa Ana Register for the efforts made in the dry cause.

Mrs. Grimm appointed Mrs. James Huntley, Mrs. Cohoe and Mrs. Mary Sumwalt as a nominating committee to report back at the next meeting. The place for the meeting has not been determined.

At the close of the session, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sumwalt, Mrs. Stella DeCew and Mrs. Fred Tuffree, served punch and wafers at tables set under a beautiful Japanese paper tree that covered a shady patio.

Those securing "B" licenses, permitting the sale of bottled beers, are Stein-Strauss company; Harry Stein, the drive-in market; and Grace Dennison Schaffer, 400 South Spadra road.

A wholesale distributing place will be installed in the Lillian Yeager building, Chapman avenue and Spadra road, with Jack Waltz as manager, under a new firm, Fuller Brothers, incorporated.

Licenses denied were to Dorothy Borton, at 100 North Spadra road. The place has no tables for service, a requirement for class "A" license. Joseph Coursey was denied a license because his place is too near Hillcrest park to comply with the ordinance on issuing an "A" license. W. S. Ballard was denied a license because the place of business is too close to a church.

Other business last night at the adjourned council meeting included purchase of fire hose through Ralph Irwin, and consideration of a request of the Fullerton Unemployed Workers association for an allowance of $100 a month with which to purchase gasoline to collect food, and material for canning food stuffs. The request was taken under advisement.

The Hawks are working hard on activities that will complete their exhibits for the Model Aircraft display to be presented at the Santa Ana Bowl next month. Last night they voted to take in an exhibit of the Junior work being conducted under the older group of boys during the vacation activity program at the California hotel. The Junior Hawks will turn loose a group of glider and other exhibits for the presentation.

A group of girls is being organized into a club for model aircraft work and all who have joined are exceedingly interested. Dr. McClelland said today.

APPROVAL TO NEW DISTRICT

PLACENTIA, July 12.—Members of Placentia Chamber of Commerce held a jubilant session yesterday at the success of the attempt to get the consent of the state board of education to permit them to hold an election on withdrawal of the Placentia Union Grammar school district from the Fullerton Union High school district to build a high school at Placentia.

Members of the chamber who attended the state board session last Saturday reported that a great deal of the success was attributed to Stuart Strathman's efficient method of presenting the case, and of John Tuffree's presenting the Mexican need of the community. Mr. Tuffree contended the Mexicans will continue in school if allowed to attend at home with students they know.

The men who attended the state board meeting at San Francisco and who reported were Ralph F. Essert, new superintendent of schools at Placentia; S. James Tuffree, Harry Hale, Ed Backs, John Tuffree and Strathman.

Strathman said he attributed the success to the assistance given from many sources, and to the fair way those in outside districts had helped by having no organized effort to oppose the change. The date for election on the issue is to be set by Ray Adkinson, county superintendent of schools.

SUPPORT FOR TIDELANDS OIL LEASE DENIED

Members of the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon declined to take action on requesting the state legislature to pass a law ceding state tidelands at Huntington Beach to the city of Huntington Beach and to permit drilling for oil thereon. A similar proposition appearing on the ballot at the November election was voted down.

Tom Talbert, former chairman of the board of supervisors and business man at Huntington Beach, headed a delegation that appeared before the supervisors yesterday and asked adoption of a resolution urging the state legislature to cede the tidelands and to permit drilling.

Urging action by the supervisors, Talbert said that in the communities where it was understood that the measure on the November ballot applied only to Huntington Beach and would not pollute the beaches the plan was approved.

Talbert said that the Standard Oil company is drilling there now and "whipstocking" the well, or sending the casing down at an angle, to drain the tidelands oil basin. The tidelands, he said, can be leased with the city, county and state receiving 16 2-3 per cent royalty. Under the lease, Talbert said, the state would receive 8 1-3 per cent royalty and the city and county each would receive 4 1-6 per cent. He read figures to show that at the November election the people of Huntington Beach favored the plan.

Willard Smith, chairman of the board, declared that it was a matter for the board to decide and that he would receive a motion one way or the other. Mayor Elson Conrad of the beach city pointed out that the board should follow the indication of the people's wish as expressed in the November election.

He pointed out that while the Huntington Beach vote, cast in November was not mandatory upon the supervisors still it showed how the sentiment of the people went and that inasmuch as the supervisors adopted an ordinance legalizing the sale of beer because of a popular vote in the county it would be possible for them to accede to the wishes of the delegation appearing on behalf of the tidelands proposition. The request died when members of the board declined to move for action one way or the other.

Supervisor John Mitchell, of the Second district, including Huntington Beach, explained privately that the board decided not to act in the matter as the Huntington Beach city council is divided on the proposal although the chamber of commerce, headed by Talbert, favors the plan.

INCLUDE LIGHT OPERA TUNES IN BAND CONCERT

The Santa Ana Municipal Band will present the second of its series of weekly Thursday evening concerts in Birch park beginning promptly at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. The program which has been planned is greatly varied, ranging in taste from the religious mood to the vigor of Rossini and the melodies of Sigmund Romberg.

The march "More Fraternity" by Fillmore opens the program. The second number will be the beautiful overture "Zampa." The overture will be followed by Toscani's "Gems of Stephen Foster." "The Monastery Belle" by Kiesel will follow the Toscani number. This is a work full of beautiful harmonies and melodies in the style characteristic of religious music. The selection from the light opera, "Maytime," by Romberg will follow. A selection from "William Tell" by Rossini which comes next, offers excellent contrast to the following number. Waldteufel's waltz, "Dolores." The final number will be the "Master Mechanic," a march by Frock.

Some pretty lounging pajamas and a riding habit will appear tomorrow.

GOVERNMENT READY TO USE 'TEETH' IN RECOVERY ACT; CAN FORCE COOPERATION

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Register Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Administrator Hugh Johnson frequently bares the teeth of the industrial recovery act.

He doesn't threaten, but people keep asking him what will be done when concerns set extortionate prices, raise rents to offset new minimum wages to employees or discharge workers for union activities. And he leaves no doubt that when an industry doesn't police itself, as he hopes it will, he intends to step in.

If he thinks an industry has fixed prices too high he will call in its representatives, ask them to defend themselves, and if they can't make a case will turn to the anti-trust laws for prosecution.

And to fire a man for joining a union would be a violation of pledged word under the new codes, for which deprivation of the act's benefits would be the punishment.

Act Has Teeth
"Read the Act!" is one of the stock official answers to questions here now. Reading of the industrial act discloses more teeth than most of us supposed were in it. First the federal district attorneys, upon orders from the Justice Department, are charged with preventing and restraining violations of codes, with jurisdiction given to the U. S. district courts.

Next there's a $500 fine provided for whoever violates a provision of an approved code, for each violation.

Next, the president can license business enterprises to engage in interstate commerce and can revoke such licenses. There's a $500 fine and up to six months imprisonment provided for operation without a required license—each day of violation constituting a separate offense.

President's Power
Stiffest of all is the final section: The president can prescribe such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry out the purposes of the act and violation of such a rule or regulation is punishable with a $500 fine, six months imprisonment, or both.

That's the joker which leaves no limit to the government's powers of enforcement. It might be used to break a strike or to control the number of wars on a pickle.

May Lose Two Bosses
Poor Oscar B. Cintas, the Cuban ambassador, faces the danger that both his bosses will lose their jobs. CITY OFFICERS ARREST 2 FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Four men were arrested on liquor charges last night in Santa Ana by Officers Joa Murillo and George Boyd, who booked the quartet at the county jail. Two were accused of driving while intoxicated.

Frank Searles, 24, Los Angeles salesman and Joseph Kelly, 41, passenger in his car, were arrested at 8:30 p. m. at Main and Chestnut streets. Searles was charged with drunk driving and did not have an operator's license while Kelly was charged with intoxication. Three pints of whiskey were taken from the car by officers, the report showed.

Joe Martin, 28, cook from South Pasadena, was arrested at Main and Central avenues in Delhi at 9 p. m. on a charge of drunk driving after he was involved in an automobile wreck. He is reported to have collided with a car driven by Frank Marquez, Delhi, and one pint of wine was found in his car, according to the police report.

Albert Quintana, 25, laborer, 902 1/2 East Sixth street, was taken to the jail after he was picked up at First and Artesia streets for intoxication.

Novarro Picture Opens Here Today

Ramon Novarro returns to the screen of the Fox West Coast theater today in "The Barbarian," a comedy romance which is declared to be particularly suited to his style of acting.

He plays the role of a philanthropic young Arab who falls in love with an English girl, winning her through his singing and his dash and speed in love making. Myrna Loy is the girl. Others in the cast include Reginald Denney, Louise Closser Hale, C. Aubrey Smith and Hedda Hopper. There is much comedy, lots of action and those who like to hear the Latin star sing will find much enjoyment in the new picture.

Leo Friis Speaker For Police School

Leo Friis, deputy district attorney, will be the speaker at the next session of the Santa Ana police school to be held tomorrow night in the Santa Ana police court at 7:30 p. m.

The attorney will discuss "Burglary" and tell the peace officers from Orange county the various legal aspects of this offense.

"Goodbye, darlings. Swell wedding, but don't try to beat happy couple to ferry unless you Terraplane!"

It isn't the speed . . . it's the RAPIDITY!

To beat all other cars in an Essex Terraplane, you don't have to exceed the speed-limit.

Terraplaning is fast if you want it to be, even up to eighty-five and more. But conservative drivers are so keen about it because it saves the minutes that other cars waste.

You save minutes in every mile of city-traffic by Terraplaning rapidly into the free lane ahead to command the road. You Terraplane quickly around other traffic by a slight pressure on the accelerator without shifting gears. You Terraplane up the steepest hills in high gear without rushing. You Terraplane around curves in safety without cutting down your normal speed.

And you accomplish all this with a smooth lack of haste that has been the dream of motorists ever since the automobile was invented.

Terraplaning is safer because it is more skillful. It is more thrilling because it is so much easier. Try it, and see.

HOW ABOUT THE BALL?
Eddie Collins has been shopping around in the Pacific Coast league and comes up with three new players, Fred Muller, Buck Walters and Mel Adams. How long the Red Sox will keep these ivory exhibits is uncertain. You never can tell how far a kangaroo can jump from where you sit.

BUNT MEANS DOUBLE
In the coast league they are using what Bill McKechnie, manager of the Braves, calls a cross between a tennis ball and a golf ball. It's the only league in the country where a signal for a bunt results in a two-base hit.

TOUGH ON PLAYERS
In almost every league they use a different ball, though the coast league probably needs it more than the others. Even between the National and American league balls there is a vast difference. Another kind of ball is used in the American association.

SCREW-BALL HUBBELL
Carl Hubbell of the Giants and his screw ball have gone on record with a performance that probably will not be equaled for several seasons. Eighteen scoresless innings against the Cardinals bring back the days of Iron Man Joe McGinnis of ancient memory.

LIKE MATTY'S SPECIALTY
Christy Mathewson had the same kind of a curve Hubbell hurled, but coming from Matty's right hand it was called a fade-away. You also can get several different kinds of answer to the question of what constitutes a fade-away.

Anytime when Hubbell came up from Oklahoma City to Detroit in 1926, Ty Cobb scrutinized the slim young six-footer carefully. When Ty learned that Hubbell was pitching a screw ball he urged him to forget it, advising the recruit that it would ruin his arm.

M'GRAW SEES HIM
From Toronto Hubbell drifted to the Three-Eye league and Texas league where McGraw himself spotted him. The Giants paid $46,000, he reported in 1928 and never has had a season in which he lost more than he won.

The melody of Torrance base-knocks lingered on and on today, long after National Night league officials had written final to the first-half of their 1933 season, yet what the champions did to Santa Ana last night—11 to 3—was little worse than what they've done to every other club in the wheel.

Torrance merely contributed a touch of grim jest to the collapse of the fallen Stars by slaughtering them in the very presence of their "ain folk," and in a game that had no bearing whatever on the titular race, the Torrance having long before served up the championship.

The first victim was Wilson Secord, the Tustin schoolboy. He lasted less than three innings, retiring after a series of basehits had sprayed the outfield like shots from a machine gun.

HEAVY ARTILLERY RUMBLES
Santa Ana was helpless before Neva until the last of the fourth. Then Denny's right field fence was reached, and Neva's single ran the count up to 4-0 in the third.

It looks like it might take the whole league to dislodge the Torrance.

PIPE 'EM OFF
When Joe Cornelius replaced Wilbur Stinchfield as Santa Ana's pitcher last night, Torrance continued under protest because of the National Night league's rule No. 27, which reads: "No player may be registered with the president as pitcher except in the following instances: After two registered pitchers have been removed from the box, any player who has participated in the present and preceding game for at least half the number of innings played, is eligible to pitch."

TOMMY BEATS CASANOVA
LOS ANGELES, July 12.—(UP)—Young Tommy, carrying a lethal punch in either glove, clinched his superiority over "Baby Face" Casanova by pounding out a decisive verdict in 10 rounds at the Olympic last night.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(UP)—Though Marty McManus seems to be doing a pretty good job of it, rumor has it that Jack Barry, coach of the Holy Cross college baseball team, will manage the Boston Red Sox next year. Jack played with Eddie Collins, general manager of the Sox, for Connie Mack's A's. . . . Participation in four major sports—football, basketball, baseball and track—which he did in the National league, and the whole league will be leveling to break up Torrance's monopoly of first place. It looks like it might take the whole league to dislodge the Torrance.

NEW YORK, July 12.—(UP)—It is doubtful if the game of tennis ever will grip this nation as it does England where crowds of 30,000 are not uncommon and hundreds remain in line all night for standing room near a court on which an important match is scheduled. But it wouldn't be surprising to see all American attendance records for the sport broken this year during the Wimbledon Cup series and men's and women's Nationals at Forest Hills, and the West Side club's spacious horseshoe stadium completely sold out for the first time.

Week-end MURDER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Linda Averill believes her elderly cousin, Amos Peabody, was murdered when he fell from the second story balcony of the Averill's Long Island home because of a few words he gasped before his death. Linda rushes upstairs. Some one tries to strangle her and she faints. "There are four guests in the house—well suspects of the crime. They are: Mr. Statlander, business associate of Tom Averill; Captain De Vos, handsome Belgian; Marvin Pratt, former suitor of Linda's; and Lian Shaughnessey, Irish writer. Since there is no evidence on which to base an arrest, Linda and Tom, her husband, agree they must keep the four men in the house until they have discovered who is guilty. They pretend to believe the death was an accident. They are aided in their plan when Dr. Boyle, medical examiner, sends word that every one must remain until he has questioned them. Boyle is on a fishing trip and can not return for several hours.

Linda finds the towel with which the attempt was made to strangle her—identified by a smear of sunburn ointment. It was in Statlander's bathroom. She overhears Rosie, the maid, talking to Shaughnessey about a shirt. Rosie has promised to launder. Tom believes this shirt may be an important clue and goes to have a look at it.

Shaughnessey discovers Tom has searched his quarters. Linda finds Rosie in tears. Rosie has ruined the dark which she was leaving for a possibly dangerous adventure. Linda ran briskly up the steps and faced him in the doorway.

"You didn't want to see me," she said, "and I don't blame you. But I feel I must—well, straighten things out a little and—won't you ask me in?"

Surprised into a return to his usual gallantry of manner, he stood aside and bowed her toward the large room. In his colorful dressing gown he looked three times his ordinary height and width. Pipe in hand, he surveyed her rather grimly from the doorway which he completely filled.

"Sit down, won't you?" she invited, taking a comfortable chintz-covered chair and indicating the broad couch before her. He advanced slowly, without answering, and for a moment she thought he was going to remain standing, towering so closely over her as to terrify her before she even began to speak. Instead, he compromised by dropping to the broad, cushioned arm of the couch, and with a little nod indicated that he was ready.

She leaned forward and plunged breathlessly into speech, not stopping to pick her words. "It's about what you said to Tom—and what Tom did to you. He came up here—you know that—but he had a reason, a good reason. Really he did, Mr. Shaughnessey!"

"This is his place," replied the Irishman grimly.

"Not while a guest's here." Quick color flooded her face at her admission of her husband's breach of manners. "He had no more right to examine your rooms than you would have to examine his."

"Then he did—examine them?"

"Not exactly. He came to see one thing—he did look for that." His eyes rested on the couch beneath the arm where he sat. Linda knew that must be the spot where the luckless bundle had rested.

"Yes," she said.

Instantly he was on his feet. Outraged pride, defiance, anger blazed in the dark-lashed, gray eyes so far above her.

"Mr. Averill shall have his shirt back at once. By an error—it came into my possession. I meant to rectify the error at once. I have only just discovered it myself. I understand that the official institution is called off, so I shall be leaving you. Mrs. Averill, just as quickly as I can pack and be off."

"Oh, no—no, please!" Linda was on her feet, too. "That's just what I mean—what I was afraid of. You mustn't!" She realized that her earnestness held back for a second that blazing outburst of ready wrath and in that second she struck.

"Mr. Shaughnessey, we had to! We didn't know why you—you see, we know, and no one else does—Cousin Amos Peabody didn't fall from the balcony. He was murdered!"

At her words—apparently the last thing he had expected to hear—the man stiffened in astonishment. Then his anger flared out violently. For a moment she could hardly get her breath as the words pelted down on her.

"And just because I'm an outsider and not one of your glib, smart-alec, moneyfied Country Club set, you and your husband have the audacity—"

"Wait—wait a minute!" Linda cried. "You mustn't—we didn't—"

That seemed to reach his Celtic sense of humor.

"Ah—a general conspiracy?" he inquired, slipping easily from the ferocious to the sardonic. Disregarding this change of front, Linda answered in her most reasonable, persuasive manner.

"No, Mr. Shaughnessey—but you remember yourself that every man of you had quarrel with Mr. Peabody for one reason or another. And—"

"And every man of us would commit murder on a doddering old nincompoop like himself, I suppose?"

With a mental comment upon his powers of uncomplimentary description, Linda preserved her outward serenity.

"No. It was I started Tom off. Because of what I said, he felt he must—must see that shirt."

The mention of the forbidden subject—she knew instinctively he would be much more sensitive over possessing only one shirt than over being suspected of murder—brought another ominous flash. Linda bravely persisted.

"I came around the corner of the house today—I didn't mean to spy but I couldn't help hearing you talk to Rosie." It was hard to go on, facing that white-fury, but she managed to speak evenly. "Now, think yourself, Mr. Shaughnessey! I heard her say she'd taken stains out and you say she'd saved you from lots of trouble."

Suddenly the tide turned in her favor—or the giant before her realized that galle rather than brute force would extract him best from a nasty predicament. Flinging back his head he roared forth with laughter which for all its apparent amusement had an undertone of savagery almost as alarming as his open anger.

"Eavesdropping—searching of the rooms—suspicion of murder! Is it all because I coaxed a thick-country girl to wash out some liquor stains that you think I pitched your intolerant old relative over the railing?"

"Oh, no!" Would this stupid man stop thinking about himself and see what she was trying to tell him? "First we decided, from several things, that Cousin Amos had been murdered—murdered early this morning, when nobody would ordinarily be around. Then we started checking up on our guests—and frankly, Mr. Shaughnessey—she faced him resolutely, "There were reasons why every single one of you might want to do it and we've found things that pointed to each one of you as being the one who did do it."

Emboldened by his silence, she felt suddenly that at least his anger of a moment ago was temporarily in abeyance. The instinctive response of the born teller of tales to a dramatic situation held her as she stopped.

"I see. You think it might have been blood—"

"And there was a tear—" "Yes, there was a tear." Again the note of resentment but she pressed forward eagerly, feeling him half-won.

"I can't go over it all now—and it isn't fair to Mr. Averill—in fact, I've gone against his express wishes in talking to anyone about it. But you see I've put the cards on the table. You're a writer and—and a man who's interested in people. I've told you our dilemma. Perhaps you can help us. Won't you come over to the house and talk to us both about it? I'd appreciate anything you could do—even to listen and perhaps help us sort out our—our clues and discard the meaningless ones."

He seemed to waver, then a disarming boyish and appealing smile broke through the sternness of his face.

"I'll do that, Mrs. Averill, and gladly," he exclaimed, and she caught no forced enthusiasm in his rich baritone voice. "Tis a rare mystery you've hatched under my very eyes and I none the wiser for what was going on! What I can tell you or do for you is nothing but you're welcome to the story of the shirt—has it not a literary flavor?"—and any ideas I can give you will wait whilst I'll be putting on a more respectable garment than this for the trip to the other house and we'll walk back together?"

He paused at the door on his flight to the bedroom, and now his mercurial good humor had given place to portentous solemnity.

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durne

RUSSIA
Much ado is being made about American recognition of Russia. Former Senator Brookhart, who is handling trade negotiations with the Soviet, is painting a rosy picture of vast new avenues to be opened to American commerce immediately following recognition. Trained government economists are laughing in their sleeves.

They will tell you off the record we're getting all the Russian trade we can right now.

The only way it could be increased would be through government guarantee of contracts. It would be necessary to amend the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act to do this.

Such a step is highly improbable. The government doesn't underwrite trade with other countries. It would be a bold man who suggested the Soviet be made an exception.

The $4,000,000 R. F. C. loan for export of American cotton to Russia is no criterion. That was under the special provision permitting advances for export of agricultural commodities.

Russia's big needs are for machinery and the like. The R. F. C. can't gamble that the Amtorg will pay for such.

Germany and England have been getting a major portion of Russia's trade. Both have been putting the Soviet government on the cuff.

Of late the Reds have been curtailing their orders to these two countries. They owe Germany about a quarter of a billion dollars and England a less amount. They don't want to obligate themselves for more than they can pay.

When the Russian wheat crop went off, she had to ship gold to meet part of her payments. Germany. Both moves were undesirable from the Soviet standpoint.

Consequently the Reds began placing orders elsewhere for the time being.

With or without recognition our markets are open to them at any time.

If they have the money to put on the line.

BROOKHART

Privately, some of our economists say putting Brookhart in charge of Russian trade negotiations was about as sensible as making ex-Governor Bilbo a super-newspaper-clipper.

They infer that Brookhart is trying to ballyhoo himself into a job as head of an American Amtorg.

With a trip to Russia thrown in for good measure.

SUGAR

Have you noticed, Mrs. Housewife, that sugar futures have been going up? You'll probably feel it at the grocery store soon. There's a reason back of this. Producers and refiners are at loggerheads over a marketing agreement. An inside analysis of the situation indicates their wrangle will continue for some time.

As long as they argue look out for a boost in sugar prices.

All of the big sugar daddies are in town, reinforced by lobby experts and legal advisers. They have met together and with Farm Administrator Peek and Co-Administrator Brand. They have appointed a drafting committee and it appointed a sub-committee. The sub-committee appointed a sub-committee of its own.

After paring things down to this point three men got together. Wayne Johnson represented the big New York and Philadelphia refiners. Former Senator Hawes spoke for the Philippines. C. J. Bourg upheld the interests of Louisiana cane growers.

This trio produced a tentative temporary agreement. It was nothing more than a hitching post from which to mark time for a year.

CUBA

The trouble is that cane and beet already are in the ground. Also, down in Havana our Ambassador is trying to work out a reciprocity agreement with Cuba. Incidentally Cuba has a delegation here for the shadow boxing. It's all very annoying to Peek and Brand. It will be annoying to the consumer shortly.

STAMPS

When the stamp-collecting bug bites you're badly bitten. President Roosevelt suffers from a severe case.

The day he returned from his vacation cruise a crisis was impending at the London Conference.

Did he ask for the latest cables from the American delegation when he got to his desk? No.

He inquired whether there was not a package of stamps waiting for him. When they were produced he proceeded to gloat over them and weed out duplicates.

When this column reported incidentally the other day that Mr. Roosevelt went in for America, it left out one word. It should have read "South America."

The President's collection specializes on stamps from South American countries and the West Indies.

Over at the State Department they watch out for good numbers. Every so often an envelope full is delivered to the White House for inspection.

PRATT

Admiral William V. Pratt retired the other day after 48 years of active service in the Navy. While movie men ground out a farewell picture, the Admiral allowed he was going on a vacation that would get him away from reporters and photographers. He said 48 years in the Navy entitled him to it.

He's going on a sea voyage for his vacation.

NOTES

Despite all of her squawking at London, France made a stab at borrowing five billion francs from the United States, according to private State sources.

So she turned to Switzerland and asked for three billion.

Norman Davis may or may not return to Geneva, but had two favorite expressions in personal conversation at the Disarmament Conference, so those on the spot write in . . . The first was: "We'll soon see now if the Conference blows up in our face."

The other was: "America is full of broken legs because Americans had further to fall when the crash came."

Another hot mot comes from a U. S. Senator who compared the President to Columbus on the basis of his first four months in office . . . "Because," he said, "Columbus didn't know where he was going when he started, where he was when he got there, or where he'd been when he got back."

NEW YORK By James McMullin CONFERENCE

Prolonging the London Conference is just a case of letting the old cat die instead of jumping off at the top of the swing.

Nothing heroic will be accomplished. But New York views our diplomatic victory as worth winning at that. It pulls the teeth of the gold bloc. They can't say we killed the Conference if the Conference isn't dead.

That is important chiefly as a matter of public relations. When the final fadeout does come nobody will worry about who caused it.

Authorities here say our delegation pulled some very skillful inside stuff to gain allies before the showdown. At the end we had Japan, China, the Scandinavian countries and the British Dominions on our side. They all were sold on the idea that a general price rise program was worth talking about at greater length.

It got so France didn't dare put the issue up to a plenary session of the Conference. She was afraid of being voted down, which would have ruined her plan to discredit us. So she did the next best thing and joined the majority in favor of continuing the motions.

New York wasn't unanimously upset by Mr. Roosevelt's verbal plan at the Conference. There were many who got a big kick out of his telling the French where to get off. "A thousand years of diplomacy shot to hell because one man knew what he wanted to say and said."

INFLATION

The next step on domestic inflation will be a revival of the credit expansion idea through Federal Reserve purchases of government securities. It will help psychology more than anything else. There isn't much demand for fresh credit at present. But we are not ready for devaluation and this step will help keep the inflationists quiet until we are set.

The new price level objective—average of prices in 1924-25—is a shade lower than the original 1926 level target. The difference isn't enough to matter. The net result will be equivalent to 40 per cent dollar devaluation. So far dollar depreciation in terms of foreign exchange is about 30 per cent, but the domestic price rise—in spite of its rapid progress—only amounts to 19 per cent. Retail prices have only gone up 4 per cent but no one is worried about that. Informed New Yorkers say the last half of the rise will be the hardest and that the goal can only be reached through active domestic inflation.

Insiders are sure that direct devaluation will be held in reserve

Under its provisions progress is being made. It is the fixed policy of the Standard Oil Company of California not to sell to price-cutters and not to seek to capture outlets of its competitors.

Here is the AAA Report. Read it: "This is to certify that we, the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, have conducted a series of tests on Standard Gasoline, manufactured by Standard Oil Company of California, and six other gasolines considered to be leading brands, for comparative detonation (anti-knock), under actual road conditions, using what is technically known as the Cooperative Fuel Research Road Test method.

Under the procedure and conditions that obtained at the time of the test in this car, we find Standard Gasoline is unsurpassed.

All tests were conducted by us under carefully controlled conditions of operation, in a 1933 stock model sedan, and in accordance with the rules and policies of the AAA Contest Board. This statement is based on data developed by and on file with the AAA Contest Board."

City School Budget Hearing Set For Next Tuesday

$765,226 SUM COMES UP FOR PUBLIC CHECK

Next Tuesday night has been set as the date for public hearing on the Santa Ana schools 1933-34 budget totaling $765,226.22 for operation, Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson informed the school board last night that the date had been set by County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson. The hearing will be in the board room at the school administration building, 1012 North Main street.

Henderson also reported that the summary of assessed values reveals that while the city schools income for 1932-33 was set up on the basis of an estimated valuation of $19,900,000 in the high school and junior college districts the actual valuation is $20,287,020, an increase of $387,020. In the elementary schools the income was figured on an estimated valuation of $18,687,290 and the actual valuation is $19,145,080, an increase of $457,790.

He called attention that, under the Riley-Stewart tax bill approved by the voters at the special election of June 27, school budgets can be increased but five per cent annually regardless of any increases in daily attendance that may occur and said that as a matter of safety he would suggest increasing the junior college, high school and elementary district reserve funds.

It was suggested in this connection that the junior college fund be increased $1000, the high school fund $2000 and the elementary fund $2000. This will be one of the matters taken up at the budget hearing. These increases could be allowed without increasing the tax rate of last year, $1.21, due to the fact that assessed valuations were not cut as much as anticipated, Henderson explained.

As Gulf, Mississippi and Lakes Were Joined

The first commercial barge tow to reach Chicago from New Orleans over the newly completed Lakes-to-Gulf waterway is shown above at Michigan avenue in the Chicago River. A celebration marked the opening of the seaway, with War Secretary Dorn, Speaker Rainey of the House, and other notables participating.

BOARD SETS FIRE LOSSES ASIDE $375 FOR AUDITING

Request of the Orange County Tax Research Bureau to increase the amount set aside for auditing school board accounts was denied last night by the Santa Ana board of education. The board, however, did approve the addition of $75 to the amount set aside in order that student accounts may be audited.

Several weeks ago the board appropriated $300 for an audit of school accounts at the request of Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson as there has been no audit made of the books since Henderson succeeded Dr. Percy Davis as head of the school system.

Last night the board received a request from the Orange County Tax Research Bureau to increase the amount to $400. The request said that the research bureau is attempting to secure comparable audits of all schools in Orange county and desired the firm of Crenshaw, Diehl and Wright be employed for the work. The audit requested by the research bureau, the request said, is more exhaustive than the school board had planned and would require the expenditure of approximately $400.

Dr. Margaret Baker, member of the board, pointed out that Crenshaw, Diehl and Wright had already been employed to audit the school accounts and that the $300 set aside would provide an audit satisfactory to the school board.

Dr. Baker said that the school board had an exhaustive audit made of school accounts two years ago and that she did not think the board had the right to spend the additional $100 to comply with the research bureau's request. She did make the motion adding $75 to the amount for auditing student accounts. Rolla Hays, member of the board, moved that the audit of school accounts be made satisfactory to the school board for an amount not to exceed $300.

Fire losses in Santa Ana for the fiscal year just ended were the fourth highest of any 12 month period in the history of the city and amounted to $29,591.59, it was revealed today in a report from the office of Fire Chief John Luxembourg.

Although the loss during the past 12 months is so high, the year as a whole was unusually free from fire damage, it was revealed in the report. The fire in March at the Taylor's Cash store contributed $22,591.47 of the entire total, leaving $6000 distributed for the other fires during the 12 months.

In the number of individual fires, the report showed that although the figure of 157 was four below that of last year, it was the third highest in the history of Santa Ana. The peak year was 1923-24 when 192 fires broke out. The highest damage of any year was in 1925-26 with a total of $144,021.06, which was considerably raised by the fire in the Ford garage.

Itemized reports have been kept since 1910-11 at the fire department, and show that in the intervening 23 years, there have been 1537 fires with a total loss of $618,087.98. This does not include runs by the department to points outside the city or false alarms.

The fewest fires were reported in 1911-12 and 1920-21, both with 19. The lowest damage total was in the first year of the report when only $1,350 was listed. Only two years showed a damage total in excess of $100,000, that of 1925-26 of $144,021.06.

with $144,021.06 and 1918-19 with $111,856.14.

In the year just completed, April was the only month that showed no fire loss. December with $16 and June with $15 were not far behind. The highest month was March with a total of $24,543.47, caused by the Taylor store fire. August with $2600.62 loss was next highest. During the year, there were nine fires with a total of $3214 loss which are known to have been deliberately started, the report stated.

INSURANCE COMPANY OPENS BIG CAMPAIGN

Fireman's Fund Insurance company, one of California's oldest concerns, gave tangible indication of its faith in the upward swing of business with an extensive newspaper advertising campaign just launched.

"We believe that this is an opportune time for us to get the facts concerning our companies before the people of our home state, and that newspaper advertising presents the most direct route for us to reach the insuring public," President J. B. Levison said.

"Our seventieth anniversary finds us in an unusually favorable position. Acceleration of business activity and increasing values will naturally be reflected in greater insurance volume. This will not only benefit the insurance companies, but should bring increased income for the hundreds of thousands of agents who make their livelihood from insurance (Fireman's Fund alone has over 11,000). This increased spending power should make itself felt in retail channels of business."

MUST SUPPORT COLLECTIVISM PLAN OF GOVERNMENT OR FACE DISASTER, BUILDERS ADVISED

President Roosevelt's program for business recovery through application of the National Industrial Recovery Act, having for its principal objective the lessening of unemployment and the restoration of purchasing power on part of the people, must succeed if America is to escape a national disaster, was the solemn warning sounded by Harry W. Biddle, well known Los Angeles economist and trade expert, in an address delivered last night before members of the Orange County Builders' Exchange at Ketter's cafe.

Fresh from Washington where he had conferences with General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the recovery act, and other high officials, the speaker portrayed vividly the seriousness of the present economic situation with close to 14,000,000 unemployed people, which, he added, presents an intolerable state of affairs, fraught with dangers to the security of the nation, and therefore cannot be permitted to continue. In this connection he made an impassioned plea for wholehearted support of the president's program, and asked that the assembled contractors forget all selfish thoughts all joining the procession toward recovery.

President A. L. Foster of Fullerton presided over the dinner meeting which was attended by more than 200 members of the exchange, drawn from all parts of the county. Walter F. Sorensen, past president, was in charge of the program.

Provide Defense Fund
Indication that the exchange will contest the enforcement of discriminatory license ordinances enacted by municipalities, for the apparent purpose of eliminating outside competition, was indicated by the adoption of a resolution providing for the assessment of a small amount from each member for a legal defense fund. W. J. Kelly, Santa Ana roofing contractor, urging the adoption of the resolution, deplored the attitude he said had been adopted by the city of Laguna Beach in imposing trade restrictions that he declared made it impossible for out-of-town contractors to accept work in that community.

Rights Involved
Collective action, both on the part of employers and employees, is the policy of this act, the speaker explained, in which connection he made it plain that it will effect the unionizing of all labor. On the other hand, with the government in the hand, there will be no strikes, he declared.

"Business and industry are giving up their right to set hours of labor and the wage or compensation to be paid, and in return, are gaining the right to curtail production, restrain trade and fix prices, under agreements having the approval of the government," the speaker continued.

Pointing to the violent contrast of a surplus of every conceivable commodity on one hand and with 14,000,000 unemployed people walking the streets on the other, the economist explained there is no earthly hope of returning to the old state of affairs, and with the security of the nation threatened, the government had to step in and provide relief by artificial means. The act will remain in force for two years unless terminated at an earlier date by a presidential proclamation to the effect that the emergency had ended, or by an act of congress, it was added.

W. C. T. U. Will Meet On Friday

COSTA MESA, July 12.—A good attendance is expected at this week's meeting of the local W. C. T. U. as they meet in the Howard home on Albert place on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. P.-T. A. COUNCIL HEARS SUMMER PLAY LEADER

Major Alfred F. Moulton, supervisor of the summer playgrounds in Santa Ana, was the main speaker yesterday at the monthly noon luncheon of the city council of the Parent-Teachers association held in the Administration school building on North Main street.

Major Moulton was introduced by Mrs. Sam Preble, city program chairman. He emphasized the advantages of summer playgrounds and declared that the main object was to create good sportsmanship, let children use their own initiative, and create a better feeling of co-operation between children and police.

He said that the attendance was increasing since the opening day last Friday and that the older children were well organized. Merchants and citizens were thanked by Moulton for their interest and cooperation in the civic venture.

Les Fountain, manager of the Fox West Coast theater, was introduced by Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, P.-T. A. president, and discussed suppressed films. He urged those present to help educate people to see the better films and a recent article in the Parent-Teachers magazine on the subject.

Tuesday has been adopted as P.-T. A. day in Santa Ana, with the city council meeting on the first Tuesday of the month, local school and junior college in the third week and junior high school in the last week.

The parliamentary law class will begin tomorrow morning from 9:30 to 11 a. m. in the board of education building at 1012 North Main street. The meeting is open to all officers and will be conducted by Mrs. Roy Horton, parliamentarian.

According to her testimony she was injured when her automobile was involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Baker. Pretty Home Ceremony Unites Orange Couple

A ceremony which united in marriage Miss Dorothy Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Flag Reynolds, 384 South Grand street, Orange, and Walter Earl Holland, son of S. L. Holland of Buena Park, took place Monday evening in the home of Mr. Holland's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pannell, 157 S. Cambridge street, Orange. ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Dinner
Tomato juice cocktail
Stuffed flank steak
Mashed carrot or
Green string beans
One tsp. butter for dressing
Dish of berries with
One tsp. sugar, no cream
Clear tea without sugar
Calory total...455.

To this menu add potatoes in some form, brown gravy, rolls and whatever the rest of the family may drink with their meal.

How do you make tomato juice cocktail? I like to give it a sophisticated twist with various odd ends, some of which are finely minced parsley and green pepper, a dash of garlic salt, one of cayenne, a little sugar, salt and pepper, lots of lemon juice, and a dash of tobacco or Worcestershire sauce. Above all, have the juice well chilled.

Stuffed Flank Steak
(4 portions)
2 medium sized flank steaks
1 pound spinach
1 minced onion, medium
3 slices diced bacon, crisped
1 1/2 cups bread crumbs
Salt and pepper
Buy steaks that have not been slashed. Take a sharp knife and carefully cut along one edge and into the steak to form a deep pocket. Do it carefully so there will be no holes for dressing to leak out of.

Parboil the spinach, in whatever water clings to the stalks. Chop fine with the liquor.

Crisp the diced bacon in a skillet.
Add minced onion and crumbs to the bacon fat and fry to a light brown. Combine with chopped spinach, season and fill the pockets with the dressing. Sew up, dredge with flour, put in a deep kettle with a little hot fat, brown, add a little water, cover and finish in a slow oven.
Time: about 2 hours.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Frozen Fruit Salad
1 cup boiled salad dressing
1 pint of cream, whipped
1 cup grated pineapple
1 cup diced orange pulp
1 cup rice bananas
Make up some boiled dressing, combine with the whipped cream, add the three kinds of fruit and turn into shallow pans to freeze until firm enough to cut.

Staff From Anaheim Installs Lodge Officers

Effective installation ceremonies at which Mrs. Elizabeth Price became noble grand, succeeding Mrs. Fanny Taylor, were held Saturday night by Sycamore Rebekah lodge. Various Rebekah lodges of the district were represented by the large audience filling I. O. O. F. hall for the occasion.

Introduced and given places of honor were Frank Catching, district deputy grand master, and C. J. Mauerhan, district deputy grand patriarch. Other special guests were Mrs. Zella Murray, past noble grand of Willsbury, W. Va., and Mrs. Maude Newman, past noble grand of Sheridan, Wyo.

Mrs. Taylor was general chairman of the evening. Under the direction of Miss Pearl Nicholson, a striking decorative effect had been achieved in the main lodge room, where large baskets of dahlias and gladioluses in deep tones of red and pink had been arranged.

Flowers were received as by many of the officers. Among those so honored were Mrs. Hazel Ryan, financial secretary for a number of years, who received a large basket of gladioluses, and Mrs. Price, who received a basket of rosebuds, her little daughter making this presentation.

Installation was carried on under the supervision of Mildred Allen of Anaheim, district deputy, with the assistance of Eva Scott, district deputy marshal. The two wore dresses of ivory lace and carried bouquets of red rosebuds tied with white tulle. Their staff of officers, from Anaheim, wearing pastel frocks, carried similar bouquets.

As retiring officers left their stations, they were presented with gardenia corsage bouquets, gifts of Miss Mary Belle Arnold.

New Officers
Those assuming their offices at this time were Elizabeth Price, noble grand; Mary Paul, vice grand; Bess H. Stovall, recording secretary; Hazel Ryan, financial secretary; Elsie Mae Henry, treasurer; Pearl Nicholson, wardens; Mildred Allen, conductor; Marian Muller, chaplain; Grace Gross, musician; Ruth Zabel R. S. N. G.; Mae Curtis, L. S. N. G.; Florence Crawford, R. S. V. G.; Bess McDonald, L. S. V. G.; Laura Henderson, inside guardian; Rhoda Heise, outside guardian; Hattie Peters, right altar supporter; Bessie Moore, left altar supporter; Fanny Taylor, junior past noble grand.

A program given during the evening included vocal solos, "Friend of Mine" and "Captain John McPherson" by Lawrence Patterson, accompanied by Josephine Madrid, Pearl Lively sang "A Brown Bird Singing" and "Auf Wiedersehen," with Miss Mame Havens accompanying.

Mrs. Taylor was presented with a past noble grand's jewel, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Crawford making the presentation. During her talk, Mrs. Price, the new noble grand, summarized work to be accomplished during the coming year in a tone poem, for which she was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mildred Marchant.

Refreshments were served in the dining room under the direction of Edna Gowen. Baskets of dahlias in yellow and red were used in decorating.

CITY COUNCIL ASKS CHECK ON LIGHT COSTS

ORANGE, July 12.—A request to the railroad commission for a check concerning the difference found in the operating costs of the city's ornamental lighting system and the incandescent street lighting system, is to be made by the city this week. The request is the result of a report made to the city council by Councilman C. J. Hessel, who called attention to the variation in the costs of the two systems.

The ornamental lighting system is owned and maintained by the city, has 244 ornamental lights and the cost for fuel per month for 69,399 kilowatt hours is $105.35, or about 1.5¢ per kilowatt. The incandescent system is maintained by the Southern California Edison company has 407 lights and the cost for fuel per month for 70,800 kilowatt is $449.48, or about 6.2¢ per kilowatt, it was brought out.

While 1410 more kilowatts are used per month in the latter system than in the former there is a difference of $334.13 in the amount paid in a six months' period. The city clerk was instructed to write the railroad commission on a check on the cost variation between the two systems and it is expected that a report will be presented to the city council at a meeting to be held July 18.

In the ornamental lighting system there are 25 600-watt lights, 31 100-watt lights and 130 250-watt lights and the light in the incandescent system vary from 60 to 200 watts.

COUNCIL CHANGES STAND ON BEER ORDINANCE; NEW LAW CONFORMS TO STATE RULES

ORANGE, July 12.—Striking out the clause which would have made it mandatory for persons ordering beer to purchase and consume an equal order for food of the same value, the Orange city council yesterday afternoon gave first reading to an ordinance which conforms closely to the state beer regulations.

The revised ordinance will permit consumption of legal alcoholic beverages at licensed business places for "legalized beverages" which must be served with meals ordered in good faith.

The ordinance indicates who is to collect the money for licenses for the sale of legalized beer and indicates to whom the taxes are to be paid in the city of Orange.

The ordinance closely follows the state ordinance and the ordinance which was adopted by the electorate June 27. No provision was made in the latter ordinance for the collection of taxes and licenses which are to go through the usual channels. The licenses will be collected by the officer who collects the other business licenses and the taxes are to be paid at the office of the tax collector before the 10th of each month.

The local law is almost identical with the one which was up for first reading at a meeting of the city council July 6.

The ordinance will come up for second reading and adoption at an adjourned meeting of the council to be held July 18. Manufacturers, distributors and retailers who are to engage in this business, and who were present, expressed themselves as satisfied with the ordinance as introduced.

L. F. Coburn, representing the Orange County Distributing Company Ltd., as attorney and secretary, stated that he believed that an ordinance was not necessary to designate the collectors of taxes and licenses and that he thought a resolution would answer the purpose. He said that the state law provided that an ordinance adopted by the people through the initiative and referendum act, could not be amended or repealed without a vote of the people.

Coburn made a brief talk in which he stated that he believed the sale of legalized beverages in the city would educate the people toward temperance and that it would do away with hip flasks. City Attorney H. L. Dearing stated that an ordinance could not be passed by the city which would conflict with the people's ordinance, but that the state delegate to the cities the right to indicate who should collect licenses and to whom taxes should be paid.

It was brought out by Frank Maroney, general manager of the Orange County Distributing company, Ltd., that while no individual can be required to pay a double tax, a tax can be levied each time the legalized beverages change hands, according to a Los Angeles court decision. He stated that his company will pay a tax direct to the state as importers the tenth of each month following importation. The beverages again become subject to tax as it is handled by wholesalers and retailers, he said.

THE TINYTIMES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

As all the Tines swayed in air, wee Duncy said, "I wonder where we're bound for. Gee, the lasso man has surely been real kind."

"He knows we like adventure and we'll likely land in some new land. The skinnyscouts fly right along. They do not seem to mind."

Then Scouty, as he gazed around, cried, "Hey, lads, look down toward the ground. The lasso man is waving. He will soon be out of sight."

"Wave back at him with just one hand. Of course you lads all understand that if you take both hands off you'll be in an awful plight."

"I'll say we will!" said Dotty. "My, we're sailing 'way up in the sky. To drop from here would be too bad. No telling where we'd land."

"That nothing happens to this rope is one thing I sincerely hope. I guess we're lucky, so far, 'cause the trip has turned out grand."

Most girls are easily blinded by a

Just then they saw a cloud ahead and Dotty very loudly said, "The birds are heading toward it. Oh, what are we going to do?"

Wee Scouty answered, "Hang on tight. I think that we will be all right. If we are going to hit the cloud, we'll simply pass on through."

And that's just what they did. The cloud seemed very strange to all the crowd. 'Twas just like steam. "Gee, I can't see a single thing," said one.

Then, out they came, into the light and everything was quite all right. They all thought the experience was really lots of fun.

The birds swooped to a stream below and shortly Duncy shouted, "Oh, we're going to get a ducking!" Soon the lads found he was right.

The Tines splashed right in the stream and both the girls began to scream. The water felt real good, though, 'cause the sun was hot and bright.

WOMAN HANGS BY WEDDING RING IN FALL FROM PORCH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 12.—Hanging for several minutes by her wedding ring, so that her feet could not touch the ground, was the painful experience yesterday of Mrs. J. L. Hadley of Chicago, a visitor to Laguna Beach. As Mrs. Hadley attempted to step from a rear porch, and while her left hand was holding the railing, she slipped and fell from the unguarded steps.

As her body swung to the left, the head of a nail slipped under the wedding ring, cutting in to the bone and holding her suspended. The woman's screams attracted the attention of her husband and neighbors. Her body was supported until the ring could be slipped over the nail.

Dr. A. H. Wightman, who treated Mrs. Hadley, had to cut the ring from her finger before the wound could be treated.

SEEK TO GIVE ASSESSING TO ORANGE COUNTY

SEAL BEACH, July 12.—A petition is being circulated here by local property owners asking the city council to take such steps as may be necessary to have Orange county make the assessments of Seal Beach property and collect the municipal taxes. Proponents of the petition claim that it is costing the city considerably more under the method of having a city assessor than it did when the county did the work.

The change was made two years ago in the belief that it would produce more tax money. It is now alleged by some that the results have not justified the change.

Since the question was submitted at an election and carried, it will require resubmission to the people to repeat it.

The tax rate in Seal Beach has been raised since the city took over the assessing and collecting. During that time, however, the city has voted two bond issues.

A comprehensive statement showing the full facts and figures of the case is now being prepared by F. M. Robinson of the R. D. Crenshaw company, city auditors, at the instigation of Councilman Walder, who is the chairman of the finance committee.

4-H MEMBERS PLAN PICNIC FOR JULY 29

LA HABRA, July 12.—The annual La Habra 4-H club picnic is to be held on July 29, at Ganesha park in Pomona, according to plans discussed by the boys at their meeting Monday night of this week. Last year the picnic was held at this park with an attendance of 135 and it is hoped that even a larger attendance will be on hand this year.

Members of the Farm Center and the farm advisors' offices are special guests each year and will receive invitations to this affair.

Besides the picnic luncheon served at 1 o'clock swimming and contests occupy the guests during the afternoon with a baseball game between the girls and boys 4-H clubs of La Habra closing the afternoon's entertainment.

INSTALLATION OF LIONS CLUB OFFICERS HELD

COSTA MESA, July 12.—Leroy Anderson was installed as president of the Costa Mesa Lion's club at the meeting held in the Mesa cafe yesterday. Frank Chesium was made vice president and Dr. C. G. Huston accepted the club secretaryship. Judge C. B. Diehl conducted the installation ceremony. In his brief address Judge Diehl congratulated the retiring president, Everett A. Rea, for his courage in carrying on through a period of difficulties, and gave a word of encouragement to the incoming officers.

George Ragan brought the message of the day on the topic, "Why Auto Insurance Costs so Much." The speaker stated that of the 20,443 people killed each year in accidents, and of the $1,300,000,000 loss from accidents, 40 per cent could be attributed to automobiles. He also pointed out that better roads, higher powered and faster cars, and reckless drivers' contributed much.

President Anderson appointed Everett A. Rea and Frank Chesium as a membership committee, and Dr. C. R. Jackson, Sam Meyers and Judge C. B. Diehl as the finance committee for the ensuing year. Charles Tewinkle was named as chairman of a building committee, assisted by Dr. C. G. Huston and Everett A. Rea, to arrange for new and larger meeting quarters. The building committee was requested to report at the next week's meeting.

H. K. Graul and Lloyd Willcutt were visitors.

WINS LENIENCY ON DRIVING CHARGE

LAGUNA BEACH, July 12.—Elbridge J. McGowan, 26, San Clemente, won leniency from Judge C. C. Cravath in police court yesterday, after he had pleaded guilty to a traffic charge that involved an accident. He was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and his operator's license was suspended for 60 days. A felony complaint, involving drunk-driving, was brought under the penal code, which makes the offense a misdemeanor.

"You have borne a good reputation in your home town," said the court "and for that reason I am inclined to be lenient. It would have been too bad for you if somebody had been hurt." McGowan told the police at the time of his arrest that he had been drinking 3.2 beer.

TELL WINNER OF FIRST GET RING

The first winner of a platinum diamond ring, given away over KREG nightly, will be disclosed during the 7:30 o'clock program this evening. This period is sponsored by the Citrus Granulated Soap company, presenting a sparkling drama, "Grown Up," every evening except Saturday. That popular team of stage and film stars, Gay Seabrook and Emerson Treacy, are featured in this new radio serial of modern youth, "Grown Up," which made its debut over KREG Monday, and is described as a "sure-fire" hit by local station executives.

"It has everything," declared the program director, "This drama has a character that will attract old and young. It has a realistic plot, clever dialogue and outstanding actors."

Gay Seabrook and Emerson Treacy are perhaps best known for their appearances with the Henry Duffy stock company in coast cities. They were starred in "Tommy," "Pige," "Two Girls Wanted," and other plays. Both are featured screen players.

GRASS FIRE RAGES IN CARBON CANYON

Between 40 and 60 men were fighting a large grass fire north of the Carbon Canyon in the Santa Ana Mountains today. The fire, which broke out of control about 12:30 p. m. today and necessitated the calling of men from surrounding districts.

Joe Scherman, state forest ranger, revealed at 2 p. m. that the fire had been started by a man on the scene and that 25 men had been recruited from the Silverado, C. C. Camp. Other fire fighters have been sent from the Trabuco district to fight the blaze.

The extent of damage could not be learned but it is known that the fire has burned over a large area. Many of the fire fighters were from San Juan Capistrano fighting a large fire yesterday, which was finally put out last night.

GOVERNORS UNABLE TO ATTEND FIESTA

Governors of various states who will be in Los Angeles July 29 probably will not be able to attend the Fiesta del Oro, it was learned today in a letter received by George A. Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, from officials of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

It had been hoped that the governors would be able to attend the Fiesta, to be staged on July 27, 28 and 29, in a body, but their program is so full that this will be impossible, it was stated.

However, Secretary Raymer has sent personal invitations to the governors, and it may be that some of them will come here individually for the Fiesta event.

STABILIZATION

The New York Federal Reserve Bank is as willing as Banks to do something to check dollar speculation. Everything is ready for a campaign to discourage the hit-and-run gamblers in exchange and several high officers in the Bank are keen to swing the axe. But they won't move without government sanction and assurance of Treasury cooperation. So far they can't get either.

KAPE MAN'S SUGAR BY POLICE

ALTON, Ill., July 12.—(UP)—Abandoned farm and clubhouses along the Mississippi and Illinois rivers were searched today by more than 100 officers seeking August Leui, 77, wealthy retired meat packer and banker, who was dragged from his home here by kidnappers Monday night.

While police widened their search to four adjacent counties, Leui's three sons—Carl, Howard and William—awaited an expected ransom note from the abductors.

Carl Leui, the family spokesman, insisted today that he had received no notes from the kidnapers.

WHERE THE RACKETEERS AND GUNMEN OVERAWE THE COURTS

A report from Boston reveals a sorry condition of affairs. The city, which had no fears of sending men like Sacco and Vanzetti to the electric chair simply because they attacked the prevailing economic system, becomes cowardly when racketeers and gunmen face the courts.

A few months ago there was a war on between different gangs of racketeers. Gunmen representing one gang shot down two members of another gang in cold blood. These gunmen were arrested and indicted. Again and again the panel of jurors was exhausted in the endeavor to get twelve men who would sit on such a jury to try these gunmen. Men who had asked to do jury duty because of the money there was in it, had scruples when it came to sitting on such a case.

The jury was finally obtained. The case was tried. From all the reports there was no doubt of guilt. But the result was a verdict of acquittal. It is said that the men who sat on the jury did not dare to jeopardize their lives by finding these thugs guilty.

No wonder racketeering goes on, and hired assassins continue their dastardly activity. But lest the people of the country be too severe upon Boston, let it not be forgotten that all over the country, in every large city, this business is going on. These racketeers hold their own courts, render their own verdicts and carry them out in the open streets. Nothing is more humiliating to lovers of law and order. If the task is too great for any state, it is high time that the Federal government step in. There can be no government within a government, especially a government of intimidation, bribery, terrorism and assassination, without the destruction of legitimate government.

It is high time that this racketeering and its evil fruits shall be stopped. Orderly society should accept the challenge of the racketeer and the gunman, and exterminate them. There is nothing that can be said for parasites who prey upon the weak and cowardly.

THE ECONOMIC CONFERENCE GOES ON

The Economic conference, which was about to expire when the President sent his vigorous and just message to it, has been galvanized into life again. But those who are most familiar with conditions are not over-encouraged about it. To them it seems as if the conference is just one more of those futile conferences in which nations enter upon with all their selfish motives in the foreground.

It is easy to deal in platitudes and to advance the counsels of idealism. But we are living in a very selfish world, and nations are only expressing the selfishness of the peoples who compose them. Statesmen—or politicians, if that be the more appropriate term—cannot go very far ahead of the people they represent. We may as well admit at the outset that the people of all the countries represented in the Economic conference are willing to take for themselves all they can get, and give as little as they can in return. These are the bald facts of the case.

There is a whole lot of educating yet to be done. There are old systems and old codes to be broken down. There are established standards, not only of morals, but also of economic conditions, which have to be broken down before changes can be brought about. To pass from one standard to another means loss to someone, and no one wants to lose what he already has. It is a condition rather than a theory that confronts the representatives of the nations in that conference. No country is willing to be a martyr for the good of the world. It is this condition that makes conferences in the main futile performances. Yet they serve a purpose in the education of the race. As such, even though they end in futility, they accomplish some good.

A SUPER-CABINET

In order to provide for better co-ordination among the various agencies of the Federal government set up to carry out the "new deal," President Roosevelt has formed an "Executive Council," or Super-cabinet. It is composed of the members of the cabinet and the heads of the emergency organizations.

Reports from Washington recently have told of confusion in the various departments and agencies, and the need for a co-ordinating organization. The bringing together of the cabinet members, and these new executives will doubtless achieve that purpose, for in some cases these "emergency administrators" hold a more important position in the governmental set-up than the cabinet members themselves.

The new faces in the group meeting will be those of Director of the Budget Douglas, Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Governor Morgenthau of the Federal farm credit administration, Chairman Stevenson of the Home Owners' Loan corporation; Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the industrial recovery act; Administrator Peek of the agricultural adjustment organization, Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins, Chairman Morgan of the Tennessee Valley authority; Joseph Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, and Director Fechner of the civilian conservation corporations.

The President has ordered the expediting of the relief work, and it appears that an immediate expenditure of a billion dollars will be made. Part of this will be for highway construction, some $238,000,000 for warship construction, and between $300,000,000 and $400,000,000 on Federal projects which have already been approved. The reason for this emphasis on immediate application of this money is an effort to assure more purchasing power, it being commonly known that industrial production has far out-run the increase in payrolls in our period of initial recovery. Unless purchasing power is made certain, the whole program will probably fall of its own weight. It appears that this is a wise move, and evidences that the administration is wide-awake to the lightning changes in our economic system.

There is no question of the wisdom of the creation of this new body. It is tremendously hard to set into motion any new enterprise, and to attempt to start ten or twelve of them at one time is a mammoth task. Naturally differences of opinion will arise, and there will be clashes of personalities, but these problems usually can be thrashed out in open meeting. The way to recovery is hard, and any agency that will insure its return should be supported by the people.

MEN SUCH AS THESE ENFORCED PROHIBITION

Four or five of the prohibition enforcement officials who have been let out in Chicago have gone into the saloon business, and one who was let out in San Francisco has become the president of a distillery. It cannot honestly be claimed that prohibition was tried and failed when it was enforced by men of that type. The people who were fighting for prohibition are not that kind. They are not today going into the business of selling liquor.

THE FALLING DOLLAR AND TOURIST TRADE

This is not the summer for the American tourist to be abroad. In former years his dollar was at a premium in the currencies of other nations. He usually received much more than the face value of 100 cents. As a result, he bought his curios and pictures very cheaply. He returned home showing them to his friends, and surprising them with the small amount which he paid for them.

Now that the dollar has fallen in Europe to about 73 cents, the tourist wishes he had gone a few years ago when the dollar was exchanged for 25 francs in France, and the pound in England had dropped from $4.85 to $3.36. A report from Paris states that 1500 Americans have left France for home since January 1, and that tourist centers of one-time "Gay Paree" are yawning because of the departure of American tourists during April, May and June.

Many of these tourists have learned of reduction in salary and income at home, and this, coupled with the fall of the dollar, has made it rather a sorry holiday for them. Missionary organizations, which have been able to carry on their work abroad in the face of depleted treasuries, because of the higher value of the dollar, are now facing a crisis in their work. Much of their work has had to be discontinued. A general demoralization has taken place, and work which has been a century in the building has had to be abandoned.

From many of these tourists, especially for those who have spent much of their time abroad, their country may now become a bit more alluring. Some of the gold standard countries which have benefitted greatly by the tourist trade, like France and Italy, for example, may come to see that American trade is much to be desired after all. When Santa Claus no longer visits the country, they will begin to miss him.

Commanded Lusitania

Oakland Tribune

Eighteen years ago the captain of a great liner stood at his post on the bridge as the vessel sank into the sea. As the water rose over him he grasped a floating oar and with its buoying aid was able to swim. Letting go of the oar he seized a floating chair to which he clung for two hours. Finally his gold-braided arm was seen by a sailor in a small boat and he was rescued.

The captain was William Thomas Turner of the Lusitania who died within the week in England at the age of 77 years. Freed of any blame for the tragedy this man who went down with his ship and was rescued was honored with the Order of the British Empire for his war service. A graduate of the windjamming vessels, he commanded the largest of liners and his name is associated with one of the most fearful tragedies of a World War.

This Is Real

The San Diego Union

The city slums are a national burden, a disgrace, a source of disease and crime. Their elimination, besides erasing the burden and the disgrace, would constitute the most profitable material project the country has ever undertaken—profitable, that is, in terms of dollars and cents, investment and profit. Inertia alone has stood in the way, heretofore, of mobilizing the large-scale capitalization that is needed for this kind of work. There are signs now that this inertia has been overcome, and that housing reform is to become an actual, practical item in the anti-depression program of building.

Planned revival of the housing industry will do more for America than all the 3.2 beer that will ever be manufactured.

Umpire Needed

Oakland Tribune

The remote war which Bolivia and Paraguay are carrying on is in need of a neutral umpire. From the despatches the world can get little idea as to which side is winning. According to Bolivia, Fort Nanawa has been taken; Paraguay says the attack failed miserably.

Better for both countries if the controversy can be confined to claims on paper and victories accorded to the one who produces the more plausible story. In a difficult terrain, far from the sight and evidently, each nation thinks its troops are winning. Considering the stakes and the costs, the same view is that both are losing.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

LINES BY A DYSPEPTIC

If I only had gone on a diet
Some fifteen or twenty years back,
My sleep would be peaceful and quiet,
My nerves would not be on the rack;
But my taste for rich dishes I pampered,
Sipped liquors both brewed and distilled,
My appetite, wholly unhampered,
Was permitted to rove where it willed.
So now I must dine, with meticulous care,
On a most uninviting and limited fare.

Today I am wholly unable
To imbibe what I fain would imbibe,
I must eat, when I sit at my table,
The dishes the doctors prescribe.
To dine is a dreary employment;
A crust and a cup of weak tea
Are never a source of enjoyment
But only a horror to me,
Who once ate my way with experienced ease
From the tempting hors d'oeuvres to the Camembert cheese.

Still I look on the past without sorrow;
Remorse does not grip me at all.
If I just could live over tomorrow
The days that are now past recall.
Though I knew I should wreck my indigestion
By eating as much as two men,
Beyond any caviar or question
I would do it all over again.
One secret of life I full well understood,
And that was to eat when the eating was good.

Thoughts On Modern Life

FOUR ROADS TO RECOVERY

The real test of the Roosevelt program is about to be made.

It is worth while now to try to cut through the mass of details and discussion and to see just what the golden heart of the Roosevelt program is.

I have made it plain, I think, that, in my judgment, the major weakness of the Roosevelt approach, both in respect of agricultural production and of industry, is its dependence upon a policy of restricting production instead of frankly facing the fact that we are in an economics of plenty and that it is a social retreat to try to solve our troubles by reestablishing scarcity.

But beneath and beyond this major weakness, there are, I think, four profoundly fundamental and far-sighted points in the Roosevelt program that seem to me to suggest four roads to recovery that we shall find it necessary to take.

Those four fundamental points are:

(1) Greater power for the Executive.

I am convinced that democratic self-government will go down, if, in this increasingly complicated social scene, legislative bodies insist upon handling the details of legislation and continue to nose ineptly into the field of administration. In the future we must restrict legislative bodies to the function of determining goals and charting the broad paths of policy, leaving to expert executives the task of working these policies out and arriving at these goals.

(2) Greater spread of buying power among the masses.

I need not say again that, in my judgment, our machine economy is doomed unless we effect a wider distribution of the national income.

(3) Greater integration and the formation of self-government in all industrial fields.

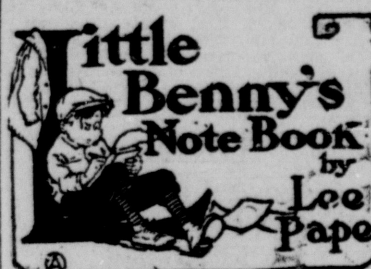

Laissez faire capitalism has been weighed and found wanting. Our anti-trust legislation is obsolete and is preventing efficient economic enterprise. I do not think the politicians would run the economic life of the nation any better than the industrialists have run it. The future must see all industrial fields free to organize nationally under sound self-government with political government standing on the side lines with a big enough stick to see that the self-government is sound.

(4) Greater intelligence in our world relations.

Our national isolation is dead as the dodo. Neither the old conservatism nor the old liberalism seems yet to have heard of its death. We must become a functioning part of the modern economic world.

What is the outlook for progress along these four lines? I shall discuss this question in the days ahead.

A DRINK

Children are thirsty little animals. "I want a drink," is their cry at the circus, in the church, on the road far from the drinking fountain. The farther from the spring the thirstier they seem to be always.

They are not at all particular about the kind of water they get. Anything that is wet will do. There lies the danger. We must teach children from the time they are old enough to ask for a drink of water that the water must be clean. That clean water means more than the color of it. Color won't tell the whole story. They must know where the water comes from and have permission to drink it before swallowing it.

This is important to all teachers, parents, and camp authorities. When children go on a picnic or on a trip, provision for pure water for drinking must be made first. If there is no approved source the water must be carried. Hikers are not to drink from any spring along the road unless its purity has been confirmed by the state authorities. A mountain spring by the side of the road is a lovely thing. Its silver water, clear as crystal, cold as ice, is very tempting to thirsty children. But tempted or not, they are not to drink that water unless those in charge of them are certain that this water is clean.

When there is no water except that of an unknown purity the only thing to do is to boil all that is used for drinking purposes and cool it in bottles laid in the bed of the brook or spring. That emergency, too, must be provided for by the camp authorities, counselors and teachers.

Bottled water is good provided the label it bears is one of proven honesty. The sweet drinks that children like so much are fine for camping trips and picnics but again, these drinks must bear the label of a trusted firm. And a little personal knowledge of the purity contents will not come amiss to those who handle groups of children who are likely to demand drinks on the way.

The children at home are thirsty, too. The water from the faucet is too soft and warm for quenching summer thirst. Ice water is not the best possible drink for children, but cool water is. If bottles of water are placed on the ice the children can have a cool drink without the ice itself being used.

Children like to drink from bottles. That adds to the relish of the drink. And they like straws for their lemonade, which is a very good summer drink indeed. Let them experiment with their fruit drinks. I believe that if we train children to enjoy the right kind of drinks they will not, when they are older, use the wrong sort. A lot of mistaken drinking is caused by ignorance of good things to drink.

Fruit juice is the drink for hot weather. The list is long and familiar to everybody. What is not familiar is the combination of flavors. Let the children practice a little and see what they get. The old fashioned recipes of summer drinks are entrancing and harmless in the pleasure they give. Just remember that children are thirsty little animals and make provision for their refreshment that will please them in taste, color and bouquet. But water, pure water, is always the perfect drink.
